

GLOSSARY

- API – Application Programming Interface used to communicate with 3rd party platforms
- Django – a web framework used to build applications in Python
- Docker – a containerization platform used to develop and run applications
- Language Models – a machine learning model trained on a dataset used in Natural Language Processing applications
- PII – Personally Identifiable Information such as date of birth, government ID numbers
- Prompt – user input sent to application to generate a response
- UI – user interface that is developed to benefit function of the application